TERRIBLE WRECK IN LOUISVILLE

Broken Flange Responsible For Dozen Deaths.

Knoxville Train on Louisville and Nashville Crashes Into Cars
in Yards.

BODIES OF VICTIMS MANGLED

Louisville, May 28.—Nine persons were killed and twelve injured in a wreck of Knoxville train on Louisville and Nashville train at Seventh and Hill streets, Louisville, this morning.

Identified Dead.

drummer.

Lee Miller, bridge worker,

Broadhead, Ky., 30.

George W. Funder, bridge car-penenter, Broadhead, Ky., 30, married.

P. W. Thorpe, bridge carpenter, Broadhead, Ky., 38, married.

Martin Hillton, bridge car-penenter, Broadhead, Ky., single.

Francis Weaver, bridge car-

penenter, Broadhead, Ky., married.

THE INJURED.

Eugene Ray, Lebanon Junction.

John McChord, Lebanon, Ky.,

head cut, brother of C. C. Mc-

Chord, railroad commissioner.

Sam Telford, Crab Orchard,

not serious.

Marsh Samuels, Lebanon

Junction, right leg fractured twice.

Geo. B. Cooper, Stanford,

Ky., county clerk of Lincoln county, right leg fractured below knee.

Josie Spies, of New Haven,

Ky., aged 12, both legs fractured at the Deaconess hospital.

John Boon, of Lebanon, Ky.,

contusion of right leg.

S. B. Buchanan, of Crab Orchard, slight.

The others injured are negroes.

Louisville, Ky., May 28.—The breaking of a flange of a coach on the Louisville & Nashville train from Knoxville, caused a wreck in the Louisville yards this morning in which probably a dozen persons were killed, and twenty-five injured. The mangled condition of the bodies makes identification difficult. Eight bodies are at Crales' undertaking establishment.
The injured are all in hospitals. The identified dead are: Howard B. Coleman, Stanford, Ky., traveling salesman; William Pruitt, colored, overseer Falls farm; Mr. Samuels, Lebanon; John C. Black, salesman, Barbourville.

The train consisted of a combination baggage and postal car, smoker, day coach and two sleepers. The engine and baggage car remained on the track. The coaches and sleeper left the track and crashed into a string of freight cars. Nearly every one in the smoker is believed to be killed. Those in the second coach were injured. The sleepers were uninjured.

Rescuers with ambulances and patrol wagons rushed to the scene immediately. The dead are horribly cut and crushed. Coroner Kelly estimates the dead at twelve and injured about 25.

Two passenger coaches were chused as if they had been egg shells.
Pieces of wood were thrown in all directions and the ground was bespattered with blood. Many of the bodies were crushed into a shapeless mass and it was difficult to identify the dead.

Will Be Nearer Home.

Mr. W. C. Scofield of the Park Steel company, Pittsburg, has been assigned to the city of St. Louis and will not travel any longer in Mississippi and Michigan, the territory he was first given. Mr. Scofield was formerly foreman of the Paducah Illinois Central blacksmith shops, but several months ago resigned and went with the steel firm. He has been given the city of St. Louis because he will be nearer Paducah, his home.

Head on Collision.

Oil City, Pa., May 28.—One man was killed and five injured in a head on collision between a light engine and a freight on the Pennsylvania,

HELLO GIRLS ON A STRIKE.

Because Manager of Fulton Exchange Discharged an Operator.

Fulton, Ky., May 28.—The Cumberland Telephone company is having trouble now with the "hello girls" in the local exchange. The manager saw fit to discharge one of the operators this week and when he did so several others quit. They quietly walked out of the exchange office, and when the manager went there, he found nearly every member on the list had called central, and one man was in the office to find out what was the matter.

Secretary Shaw on Speaking Trip.

Washington, May 28.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw is off on a tour of speech making which will continue nearly a month. Tonight he will attend a banquet at Wesleyan University, West Chester, Va. He will address members of the graduating class.

MULES FRIGHTENED

UPSET WAGON, SPILLING OCCU-PANT IN GUTTER.

Automobile Stopped but Animals Were Unmanageable—Little Damage Done.

J. M. Brewer and wife, residing five miles out on the Olivet church road in the county, had a narrow escape from probably serious injury Sunday evening on South Ninth street half a square off Broadway. Mrs. Brewer jumped and Mr. Brewer was thrown from his wagon by a frightened mule which scared at an automobile, but after the excitement of the accident died away
the damage done amounted to little,
and the injuries amounted to no more than a bad fright and a broken shaft and harness.

Brewer was driving in front of the "Broken Heart" restaurant and an automobile was coming south on Ninth running slow, and when it approached the wagon, Brewer shouted to stop.
The brake was set and the machine stopped within a few feet, but the mule started and turned sharply.

The wagon careened and Mrs. Brewer jumped out. Mr. Brewer remained in the wagon but the vehicle was turned over and the driver was spilled into the gutter.

He alighted on his shoulders and escaped with a few bruises. The harness was broken and the shaft shattered, but temporary repairs were made and the couple were able to continue their journey home within a half hour after the accident.

SATISFIED

WITH NEW RULE OF GENERAL
COUNCIL IS MAYOR.

Says Recommendations Will Be On Record and No Questions
Can Arise.

Mayor Yeiser is satisfied with the new rules proposed by the joint committee of the general council which provide that all communications from the mayor shall be reduced to writing and filed with the clerk.

"I think it is right," said Mayor Yeiser, "and the plan will prove satisfactory both to myself and the council. All my recommendations under the new plan will be on record and I can not dispute as to the wording of my communications ever can arise, as we will have the documents right there to refer to. As a safe guard both to the executive and to the legislative branch of the city government I believe the rule will be beneficial."

BROKE HER HIP.

Serious Injury Sustained by Wife of Physician.

Mrs. J. S. Smith, wife of the well known physician of 902 Jefferson street, met with a serious accident this morning about 9 o'clock. Mrs. Smith was walking across her room when she tripped and fell. In alighting she broke her left hip. Dr. Smith ran to her assistance and later Dr. J. J. Taylor was called in and attended the injury. On account of Mrs. Smith's age the accident is made the more serious.

PIERCE FLAMES FANNED BY WIND

Destroy Four Houses in Row
Sunday Night

Fire Department Unable to Do More Than Block Progress of Blaze
At Last.

LOSS COVERED BY INSURANCE

Four frame houses on Flournoy street between Sixth and Seventh streets burned last night. One was a modern frame but the other three of the "gun barrel" type. The fire burned briskly, being aided by a strong north wind, which blew the flames from one house to the next, and for a time it looked as if every house in that vicinity must go.

The firemen responded to a late alarm, telephoned in, and after they arrived could do little with the fire.
The nearest fire plug was five squares away and the hose burst twice after 3,000 feet had been run out. The stream was not over ten feet high when water was finally secured, and the firemen had to work to a disad-vantage.

The fire originated in the residence of Henry (Ross) Thomas' frame dwelling, 601 Flournoy street. The family was away from home and it is presumed the fire originated from a lamp which had been left burning.

A strong north wind was blowing and the flames rapidly spread. The roof was a mass of flames casting a red glow high into the sky. A woman telephoned the alarm in and in the excitement gave the location as South Sixth street. The No. 1 company got as far as Kentucky avenue before the glow in the skies told them that a false location had been given.

The run was made in quick order.
The Nos. 1, 3 and 4 companies answered but the men were delayed by having to run the hose a distance of five squares. The second house was afire before the stream was secured and the fierce wind fanned the flames from one dwelling to the other, and sparks and great fire brands were blown several squares. Men on roofs were kept busy cleaning the shingles of sparks to prevent a spread. After two hours' hard fighting the firemen succeeded in saving one, the last house.

The first house was occupied and owned by Mr. Henry Thomas, the second, occupied by Roxie Wilson, and the third by Mrs. Clancy, both white.
These houses were owned by the Boone Real Estate agency. The fourth house was occupied by Birdie Allen, colored, and the fifth by Boyd Linn. The latter house was saved.

The Wilson woman was away from home and both the house effects in the Thomas and Wilson houses were lost.
Mrs. Clancy and the others saved their household belongings.

The fourth and fifth houses were owned by Mrs. Burgauer. Full insurance is carried on all the property.
The loss will amount to a little more than $3,000.

Mrs. Thomas was away from home.
One hundred dollars in currency and all the furniture was destroyed.

VENDETTA

IS THEORY OF POLICE IN MYS-TERY OF BROOKLYN STREET.

Throat Cut From Ear to Ear and Body
Stabbed in Seventeen Places
With Stiletto.

New York, May 28.—With his throat cut from ear to ear and seventeen stab wounds, the body of a man was found on the sidewalk of Brooklyn this morning. Beside the corpse lay a case knife and stiletto. The police believe it was a vendetta affair.
No one in the neighborhood heard the least noise or scuffle.

sailor was drowned.

TO KNOW PATTISON'S CONDITION

Lawyer to Insist on Facts in Habeas Corpus Suit.

Columbus, O., May 28.—If the plans of Attorney James A. Allen do not miscarry the real condition of Gov. Pattison is to become known to the public through the medium of a habeas corpus proceeding now pending in the Common Pleas court which will be heard on its merits. Attorney Allen seeks the discharge of Harry Clarke, alias Edward Fisher, arrested today by Joliet, Ill., officials upon his release from the Ohio penitentiary. Clarke is wanted in Illinois for forgery and Attorney Allen contends that the warrant as issued with the purported signature of Governor Pattison was not signed by the governor.

FATHER ANGRY ABOUT MARRIAGE

Will Seek to Annul Nuptials
At Metropolis.

Fourteen-Year-Old Daughter of William Morgan Elopes With Boy Lover.

WEDDING ON SATURDAY NIGHT

A sensational juvenile marriage which probably will have a strenuous course for a time, was performed at Metropolis Saturday night, and this morning the young lady's father went down to have the marriage annulled, if possible.

Miss Annie Morgan, 14 years old, daughter of William Morgan, the well known Illinois Central machinist, of 1100 Broadway, eloped Saturday night with James Lee, a young man of Harrison street, employed at the Hardy Buggy company. Both are in their teens, and they were accompanied to Metropolis by John Little, Sussie and Oscar Williams and one other companion. They took a skiff and pulled down, leaving Paducah shortly after 7 o'clock.

The first news of the marriage came Sunday morning after the father, alarmed at his daughter's absence, had instituted a search. The party remained at Metropolis and this morning Mr. Morgan went down to have the ceremony annulled.

The affair is causing something of a sensation on Jackson street because of the girl's youth and the fact that the father is making such a fight against it.

The father who did not know that his daughter was keeping company with Lee, stated that he did not know
Lee. Miss Morgan has been employed as a trimmer in Mrs. Carrie Warren Girardey's millinery store.

RIVER ROUGH

AND BALL PLAYERS WISHED
THEY WERE ON SHORE.

Crossed Ohio From Metropolis in a Skiff During Wind Storm and Almost Capsized.

Six members of the Princeton baseball team which played at Metropolis yesterday, had an experience that probably will live long in their memories as one of the most dangerous and hair raising possible to imagine.

The boys crossed the Ohio river at Metropolis in a skiff while the wind was blowing a hurricane, and every minute seemed as to them.
Several times the boat dipped and came near going under, but before their danger was realized they had gotten too far out to attempt to return to the Illinois shore, and had to continue the trip.

The boys did not want to lay over in Metropolis until today to catch a boat back, and decided to risk it across in the skiff. They secured an oarsman to row them across and started. The wind was high but they did not pay particular attention to it until they had gotten some distance out into the Ohio.

By this time the velocity of the wind had increased and was assisting in blowing them across the river.
White caps danced over the sides of the skiff and kept the occupants in constant fear of capsizing. The trip finally was completed and the ball players finished the trip to Paducah
in a buggy.

They waited at the Illinois Central depot for the first train home,
and their companions at Metropolis
who waited for the boat this morning did not attempt the river trip after they had seen the danger their comrades were in.

The boatman who piloted the party across the Ohio did not attempt to make the trip back. The wind was too high and the danger too great.

IN SEBASTOPOL BOMB IS THROWN

Several Killed But Terrorists Fail in Design.

Donna Almost Unanimously Cast Vote of Want of Confidence in the Cabinet.

REPLY REFUSES LAND SCHEME.

Sebastopol, Russia, May 28.—
The latest investigation shows that five persons were killed and fourteen wounded in the bomb outrage yesterday by terrorists. The object of the bomb throwers was to kill General Nepludoff, commandant of the garrison here. He escaped unhurt.

St. Petersburg, May 28.—At the end of a memorable seven-hour session the lower house of parliament indignantly rejected the government's policy as presented by Premier Goremykin, and, with only seven dissentient voices, voted a lack of confidence in the ministry. This practically throws down the gaunlet to the bureaucracy with a demand for the retirement of the present cabinet and its supersession by a ministry approved by a majority in the house.

While the premier's statement promised co-operation with the lower house "in so far as the latter does not transgress the limits of the fundamental laws," it recognized the agrarian question as paramount, pro-land through the operation of an amending to remedy the deficiency in agrarian bank and migration to Siberia.
It proposed the introduction of universal and compulsory education, the reform of the administration and the realization of the four liberties.

Premier Goremykin's statement,
however, returned a non possumus on the chief question raised by the house. It declared that the flat and exceptional laws can not be withdrawn until murder and terrorism cease. The expropriation of appanages of the crown and church and private lands was declared inadmissible.
The right of investigating administrative acts, the statement declared, belongs to the crown, the house having only the power of interpolation.
Amnesty, Premier Goremykin said, is solely the prerogative of the emperor.

Warden Killed.

St. Petersburg, May 28.—M. Shata-loff, warden of the city prison here,
was shot four times today and mortally wounded by an 18-year-old youth executing a social revolutionist sentence for revenge for Shata-loff's treatment of political prisoners.

Several Bombs Thrown.

Sebastopol, May 28.—Several bombs were thrown here Sunday
while the review of troops at the Te-Deum celebration of the anniversary of the Empress' coronation was in progress. Three persons were killed and several wounded. Among the wounded, the commander of the fortress, Gen. Nepludoff, received slight injuries, and the chief of police was gravely injured. Other high dignitaries escaped. Two bomb throwers were arrested.

Attempts Assassination.

Tiflis, May 28.—While Governor General Tsimenoff and Chief of Police Martynoff were driving today, a bomb was thrown at them. Neither was injured, but a Cossack was killed and the coachman injured.

ALMOST OVERCOME

TEN FIREMEN ARE RESCUED
WITH DIFFICULTY.

Twelve Families Taken Down Ladders
and One Tenant Dies of Heart Failure.

New York, May 28.—While a fire was raging in the Brittany fashionable apartment house this morning Charles Northrup, an investment broker, died of heart disease. The fire started in the basement. When ten firemen entered they were overcome by gas and were rescued with difficulty by comrades. Twelve families who were occupying the building, escaped, many being taken down ladders by firemen.

Five Killed by Lightning.

Mobile, Ala., May 28.—During the progress of a ball game this afternoon in an open field about three miles from the city a thunder storm came up, accompanied by vivid lightning, which struck in the midst of the crowd, instantly killing five of the spectators and injuring twenty-five others, more or less seriously.

THE WEATHER.
The prediction is an end to the cold snap. Rising temperature is the program with fair weather Tuesday. The highest temperature was 88 Sunday. The lowest today was 52.

IMMENSE CROWD EXPECTED.

Glasgow May Entertain Between 12,- 000 and 15,000 Guests.

Glasgow, Ky., May 28.—The people here are looking forward to June 16, "Home-coming Day," as one of the big days in the history of this town. All the committees have been selected and each is busy completing the tasks undertaken. Preparations for a crowd of 12,000 to 15,000 will be made. More than 2,000 from various states have written accepting the invitation to come.

Daring Mountain Climber.

New York, May 28.—A daring mountain-climbing exploit is planned by Miss Annie S. Peck, the famous woman Alpinist of Providence, R. I., who sailed from here today for Colon.
Alone, except for such natives of Peru
as she selects for guides, Miss Peck will attempt to climb Mount Huas-caran, said to be the highest peak in the Andes mountains.

LOUISVILLE'S LID

FIT ON TIGHT FOR FIRST TIME
ON YESTERDAY.

Liquor Dealers' Representative Kept Place Open for Test and Was Arrested by Police.

Louisville, Ky., May 28.—Scores of corner pumps with handles removed and signs announcing "Closed," "It's Sinful to Drink on Sunday," brought home to early rising householders the fact that Louisville yesterday was
"dry" for the first time in many years.

Every place in Louisville and Jefferson county where intoxicants are sold was closed. The exception was a park conducted by a Hebrew who observed Saturday as the Sabbath. He was arrested but was allowed to continue selling, doing a roaring business. Four other places had been designated by the Retail Liquor Dealers association to test the law. The proprietors of these were arrested and the places closed.

The ball park was crowded when the game between Louisville and Toledo was called, but after half an inning
the police arrested President Tebeau, of Louisville, President Grillo, of Toledo, and all the players and employes.
Bonds were promptly given but the park was closed. The ordinances under which the arrests were made are to be thoroughly tested in the courts.

Death Record.

San Francisco, Cal., May 28.—According to records to date in the coroner's office, the death list from fire and earthquake is now 402, the last name added is that of Fred F.
Stanley, a letter carrier.

HARMONY SINGING

DREW USUAL BIG CROWDS TO BENTON SUNDAY.

Over Thousand Went From Paducah
and Marshall County Citizens Turned Out En Masse.

The little town of Benton, Marshall county, was crammed full of visitors yesterday and it is said that fully 5,000 strangers were present to hear the harmony singing, an annual event in Benton. One special train over the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis road left Paducah in the morning. It was made up of 13 coaches and they were all filled.
Another special of ten coaches ran out of Murray and was also well patronized. The regular trains also brought hundreds and the singing was a success from start to finish.
Over one thousand visitors went from Paducah and the crowd from Marshall county amounted to three times the Paducah delegation.

Natural Causes.

Lizzie Henry, colored, 28 years old, died Sunday night of bowel complaint. She had been ill for several days, but had no physician, necessitating the attention of the coroner.
An investigation was held this morning and death found to have been brought about by natural causes.
The body will be taken away for burial.

Nobody but the teacher of elocution expect others to have a say in his affairs.

Where They Play.
Cairo at Mattoon.
Paducah at Vincennes.
Danville at Jacksonville.

Vincennes, Ind., May 28.—The Indians showed up in form Sunday and outplayed the Hoosiers from start to finish. South was in form and pitched the same fast ball he pitched last season. The result of the game showed Paducah's playing to be compact and the science of the national sport was brought out by both teams.

There were many errors made, but the Indians kept their scattered. Hits were few and far between, showing that both pitchers had command of their delivery.

The defeat of the Indians during the past week is attributed to the fact that the outfield has been torn up and to the fact that the pitchers' arms have been bad. Perdue suffered a sore arm this week but is himself again.

Twilight Gray Suits

One of the strange friendships in Washington is that existing between Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, and ex-Senator Chandler, of New Hampshire. It is especially curious, considering that the two men represent almost diametrically opposite views on topics that have made more enemies than friends. Tillman represents all that is distasteful and hateful to the north of the race issue. On the other hand, ex-Senator Chandler has been one of the most persistent flouters of the "bloody shirt." He advocated the force bill, believes in restricting the south's representation in congress and doesn't hesitate to say that the negroes of the south should be treated as equals of the whites, and they have had numerous bitter forensic battles. On one occasion Chandler, bobbing up from different seats, kept firing questions at Tillman while the latter was addressing the chamber. The southern senator at length became exasperated.

"The senator from New Hampshire," he roared, "is the body."

W. E. YOUNG VICE PRESIDENT

The Kentucky State Laundrymen's association, which was in session for two days in Louisville, adjourned Saturday to meet next year in Paducah. Nothing of importance was transacted save the election of officers and the selecting of a place of meeting for next year. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—F. W. Schoppenhorst, of Louisville.
First Vice President—W. E. Young, of Paducah.
Second Vice President—F. E. Spaulding, of Louisville.
Treasurer—W. A. Hans, of Louisville.
Executive Committee—L. N. Williams, Owen Sullivan, George B. Merck, Frank Katterjohn, E. Van Arsdell and L. L. Metcalfe.

The association voted $100 to the relief fund for the San Francisco laundries, now being raised by the National Laundrymen's association. Six new members were added to the association during the meeting in Louisville.

Married At Metropolis.

Mr. Harry Summerville and Miss Georgia Kittrell went to Metropolis Saturday afternoon and were married. Mr. Summerville is a popular and well known telegraph operator employed by the Western Union Telegraph company. Miss Kittrell is an attractive and accomplished young lady of Fountain avenue. She came here six months ago from Clifton, Tenn. The couple left Paducah on the steamer Cowling at 4 o'clock, were married by Justice Thomas Liggett in the early evening, and returned at 9 o'clock on the Dick Fowler. They are residing at the bride's home, 622 Fountain avenue.

It is on the hill at Meudon, about half an hour's ride from Paris, that M. Rodin has built himself an unpretentious home, side by side with a magnificent studio. The buildings lie well back from the road and present a curious contrast. One enters the great studio through a portico with colonnades, and the interior is more imposing than many a public museum.

Twilight Gray Suits

GRAY SUITS are now so generally accepted as being in the lead that it isn't necessary to tell you much about them except that in the Canterbury Clothes we have the richest fabrics and most exclusive patterns to be found anywhere. As for style they display most markedly the taste and ingenuity of the modern tailor. They come in single and double breasted styles, the very latest cuts. Broad shoulders, deep vents, etc. They are of chevrons, cassimeres and worsteds, including the new twilight grays. There are also checks, plaids and stripe effects. They are unquestionably the best values in the city.

Indications are that the Mayfield military company will have an opportunity to go to Fort Ben Harrison, near Indianapolis, Ind., July 15.

While tearing down an old chimney on his place this week, J. A. Jones, of Gum Spring, Livingston county, found a large piece of lead ore.

The tract of land on which this ore was found years ago belonged to a man named Stanley. This was in the days when the people made their own bullets, and old settlers recall to mind that the owner of this land was very miserly, and did not wish to become known where his treasure trove was located.

If he happened to run short of bullets while out hunting he would tell whoever was with him to wait until he got back, whereupon he would tie himself to the hiding place of the lead to "make bullets while you wait."

This land, consisting of 400 acres, is now owned by J. A. Jones and L. J. Orskill of Grand Rivers, Ky.

AN OPEN LETTER

Dear Sir: A great deal of interest has been shown this year in regard to the matter of having a series of public band concerts on the main thoroughfare of Paducah during the summer months. The wave of progressiveness which has swept Paducah, seems, among many other features, to include the provision of free music for the mass of the people as one of the elements that shows to the world that this is an up-to-date, liberal and really progressive city.

It is certainly conceded that no place can become a city of note on commercial, utilitarian lines alone. What would be thought of a place claiming to be a progressive city where business buildings were built without any regard to beauty of architecture?

Of course, the very plainest piles of brick, without window facings or trimmings of any kind are just as good to do business in as the most ornate structure—just as a fiddle and a guitar, manipulated by uncultured sons of Ham, would be good enough for musical demands—but what would one think of such a city's claim to being an enlightened, cultivated community? "Civic pride" is a "lame horse" unless it can include in its boasts the achievements in professional and artistic circles.

And it is no coincidence that those cities which are most noted for providing intellectual and artistic advantages for their people are also noted for the magnitude of their commercial interests.

Therefore, it is of vital interest to the city that the institutions—brass bands, musical societies, etc.—we have along this line should be fostered—not only for the good they can at present do, but that they may keep pace with the growth of the city and be able in the future to meet the demands that may be made upon them.

Be it understood that of all lines of cultivation, those following the art of music are the most prominent representatives of their community and of all these the brass band is the widest known—and as it is known in the intellectual and artistic world, so is the city known in those circles.

The brass band has a mission in its community. Its moral effect in the welfare of the people is greater than can be calculated. When men do not mix with their fellows, when they "herd, each to himself," they become selfish, suspicious and bigoted. But when they are brought into contact with each other in events of pleasure they broaden in all ways—indisposition and in mind. And no influence can exert such influence toward this end as the brass band, because it will draw men and put them in the proper frame of mind to fraternize with one another.

Thus, band concerts may be cited: Without them a laboring man might, after a hard day's work, remain in his home, most likely cogitating over the drudgery of the past and of the future. With the concerts he might be induced to take a walk to listen to "a tune of two;" he may meet his neighbor and find out that the neighbor is not so bad a fellow after all; and he may meet his merchant, whose cordial greeting will set him to thinking that maybe Mr. Groceriesman does care a little as to whether the poor worker is dead or alive; or, maybe, he meets his employer, whose cheery recognition may induce him to believe that that man is genuinely interested in his welfare.

After listening to some music, viewing the shop windows and enjoying the social contact with his brother men, he returns home. The diversion has rested his mind and body, and he takes up his work on the morrow not only physically benefitted but with spirits awakened, with renewed life and most likely with a happy song on his lips.

He who is a musician has a compensating career, for he knows that his work brings nothing but happiness, cheer and betterment to the world.

The saddest music is soothing to troubled hearts and has uplifting effect and influence on gay ones. And who is there that will not forget all minor woes—and even weighty ones—under the magic of a merry strain?

And who is there, even in deepest grief, will not find that good music will lighten his burden and create within him a new spirit—a spirit to face the world with renewed hope and with higher aims.

Now what man, being able, would refuse to contribute toward this influence for happiness and good to his community?

The recognition of these principles seem to be general in our city, and the demand for the summer concerts an almost universal one. Therefore, at the solicitation of a number of our prominent citizens, the undersigned has undertaken to arrange to meet the demand, and will endeavor to call on all who wish to aid in furnishing our people with these beneficial pleasures.

To date there has been a quite liberal response, but enough funds are not yet available to assure the standard that it is desired to maintain, and it is also intended that none who desire to contribute may fail to be afforded the opportunity.

If any persons desiring to assist in this will notify me by phone or otherwise, I will be glad to call on them, explain the method of financing the proposition, or any other matters desired. Respectfully,

New Phone 136. WM. DEAL.

I deem these proposed open air concerts the very best sort of diversion for our people and worthy of liberal support from all of us. Aside from the entertainment feature, it serves to promote the interest of an organization that merits Paducah's support—Deal's Orchestra Band.

PICAYUNES.

In real life birds of a social feather are forever fighting to keep from flocking together.

A man who is popular with himself is never much of a favorite with other people.

A woman's idea of the veil of the future is always something on the order of a wedding veil.

Anybody whose pocketbook is deep enough these days can fish up a pedigree.

Only the ones who can hate with intensity can really love with every fibre in their beings.

It's an unreasonable man who expects a girl with soulful eyes to be sensible.

Well, after all, there is nothing like being able to project one's mind from dinky surroundings to dream castles of splendor.

No man realizes the value of mere money until he gets to the place he hasn't any.

Who is going to be silly enough to look for sermons in the stones in engagement rings?

One aching example of life's wasteful opportunities coming home to roost is a case recently where an eligible bachelor married the debutante daughter of his first love—who is now a susceptible widow.—New Orleans Picayune.

Fruitless Search.

J. S. Hudgens, a liveryman of Columbus, Ky., was in Paducah Saturday looking for a stranger who hired a rig from him Friday and who failed to return it. The stranger was headed this way Hudgens heard, and left a description of the stranger. Hudgens' visit here proved fruitless.

BITTER CONTEST COMES TO CLOSE

Democratic State Convention
In Tennessee Tuesday.

Republicans, United, Will Take Advantage of Schism in Democratic Ranks.

H. CLAY EVANS IN CANDIDATE

Nashville, Tenn., May 28.—The most exciting Democratic gubernatorial campaign ever held in Tennessee has just closed, and on next Tuesday the nominating convention will be held in this city. Gov. John I. Cox is a candidate for another term, and is opposed by Congressman M. R. Patterson, of Memphis. A vigorous campaign, covering the entire state, has been conducted, and many counties over instructions for governor in electing delegates to the state convention. As a result of county contests, opposing delegations, each claiming regularity, will come from a number of counties, and will wash their political linen before the credentials committee. Judge J. R. Bond, of Brownsville, has a small instructed vote for the nomination and may hold the balance of power in the convention, as neither of the two other candidates have sufficient uncontested strength to secure the nomination on the first ballot, although the friends of both claim that they will win, those of Gen. Patterson declaring that their man will be nominated on the first ballot.

The campaign has been one of criminal and recrimination throughout and much sentiment is heard in favor of an outside candidate, so as to harmonize the Democratic party.

Republican Hopes.

Based their hopes upon the contending spirit that exists in the Democratic ranks, Tennessee Republicans are counting upon success in this state. They have come together upon one candidate—the Hon. H. Clay Evans, former United States pension commissioner, and recently consul general to London, and claim their ability to elect him.

The Republicans will also make a desperate attempt to increase the number of their Tennessee representatives in congress, and may try to elect a Republican legislature. If successful in the last named move, then a Republican senator would naturally follow as successor to Senator Carmack who was recently defeated for renomination by ex-Gov. R. L. Taylor.

Exposure.

To cold draughts of air, to keen and cutting winds, sudden changes of the temperature, scanty clothing, undue exposure of the throat and neck after public speaking and singing, bring on coughs and colds.

FIREMAN INJURED WITH BLOW OF AX

Captain Elliott Wounds Capt. Jack Slaughter

Former Was Chopping Hole in Blinding Smoke and Did Not See.

SEVERE SCALP CUT RESULT

Capt. Jack Slaughter, of fire company No. 3, Tenth and Clay streets, was seriously injured last night while fighting the Flournoy street fire. He was struck in the head by Capt. Jack Elliott, of company 4, with an ax. The injury was purely accidental, and but for close quarters the affair might have resulted in Slaughter's death.

The captains were working on the west side of the Allen house. The smoke was thick and Elliott had an ax chopping into the floor on the outside to make a place to run the hose. Slaughter was at the time stooping down peering under the house looking for fallen fire brands to locate a hole in the floor.

Elliott was in close quarters and could not see for the smoke. He made a stroke with his ax and struck something soft. There was a warning cry and Slaughter's form rolled out to view.

Captain Slaughter had been struck in the head and was slightly stunned by the blow. He was taken to a nearby house and later to the fire station, where City Physician Bass administered to the injured fireman.

The wound was long and penetrated to the skull. The skull was not fractured, however, Capt. Slaughter was able to remain at the fire station and is better this morning, but still suffering from the effects of the blow.

W. O. W. EXCURSION.

Well Attended By Orderly Crowd of Illinois Folks.

The W. O. W. excursion from Carbondale was well patronized and brought nearly 800 visitors into Paducah yesterday. The train was run under the auspices of the Cobden, Ill., camp of Woodmen of the World, and arrived between 10:30 and 11 o'clock via Cairo. There were ten coaches and one baggage car, and every coach was crowded. The crowd was orderly and no trouble was reported.

Qualifications of Senators.

In a recent examination in civics in several universities the average age of the students was 20.6 years, and the following are some of the answers given to a question concerning the qualifications of United States senators:

The predominating qualifications of a United States senator is to be able to tell funny stories for publication and to go to church regular. He should also contain a smattering of law.

They must be 25 years old and have committed no crime of which they have been convicted.

A senator must be a resident of the state which chooses him and an upright citizen. He must be of sound mind.

These answers show the necessity for this study, and we hope that the students who made them will continue to pursue it for several years to come.

ON HEALTH BOARD

DR. SIGHTS HAS DECIDED HE WILL REMAIN.

Appointment to Hospital Board of Trustees Does Not Affect Present Position.

Dr. H. P. Sights has been advised that it is not necessary to resign his office in the board of health to become a member of the hospital board, an office to which he was elected last week. He is now a full fledged member of Riverside hospital board. The two offices pay no salary and it is not necessary to qualify and give bond in the hospital office. He will meet with the board at the next regular meeting. Dr. Sights succeeded Dr. J. D. Robertson on this board.

Saddle Horses at the Top. From Farmer's Home Journal of May 5, we note that Col. David Castleman of Clifton farm, near Louisville, has sold the 3-year-old saddle stallion "The Moor" No. 1907, to Gen. Wm. Palmer of Colorado Springs for $7,500.

Another good sale of Kentucky saddle horses was made in New York this week. The consignment was from Shelby T. Harrison, of Lexington. The top price was $1,250 for the gelding, Little Acorn. Big Oak brought $1,025. The pair, Escort and Gallant, sold for $1,250. Ben Greet brought $700, Tolu $900 and Senator $700.

Also that "At Durand's New York Horse Show, in the saddle class, Pattie Palmer won first. She is by Chester Darre No. 10, fourth dam by Durluth." This saddle blood, in its highest perfection, is represented in this section of Kentucky by James M. Lang's horse Rebel Dare No. 1384, by the great Chester Dare, dam by a son of Red Squirrel, second dam by Durluth. Rebel Dare, while the highest bred horse, is also said to be the best saddle horse in Jackson's Purchase.

Peculiar Hobbies.

Fads and hobbies are synonymous terms. They must be defined as "something to interest one." George Gould has become one of the most rabid polo "fans" in all Christendom. After dealing in 1,000,000 shares of Lackawanna, Deason White used to rush home, over the Wall-street ferry, to study the stars through a giant telescope. George Hardy left his business every afternoon in violent haste to go home and examine bugs through a $650 microscope.

FOR STUDY

PHYSICIANS WILL ASK FOR BASEMENT ROOM.

New Academy of Medicine Is Seeking Quarters—Board of Trustees Will Meet.

The library board will meet Tuesday night in called session at the public library. An application will be made by the newly organized Academy of Medicine for the use one night in the week of one of the basement rooms at the library. This organization is composed of professional men of the city and is purely an informal, self-educational undertaking. In many places these study-classes have been instituted having as their object the mutual advancement of the members in the study of medicine. The physicians meet together and discuss the problems and questions which come up in the practice of medicine, and by comparing ideas are greatly benefited. Dr. McCormack, secretary of the state board of health, emphasized the value of these classes in his address here several weeks ago.

The first meeting will be held on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the office of Dr. Horace Rivers, the subject being, "Physiology—Digestion." The organization will have officers, but there is practically no business connected with it, it being what is popularly called a "quiz" class.

MISTAKES OF RUSSIAN POLICE.

Typical Illustration of the Stupidity of the Czar's Peace Preservers.

The czar's whole bureaucracy has for years been so thoroughly detested by all classes of Russians that now it is mainly filled by the least intelligent of the population. And of these the police are the worst. I myself was arrested several times, and so many correspondents are, and I found the police in every instance the most dense of mortals. From my newspaper friends I heard scores of stories about this stupidity, says a writer in The World today. These two are typical.

Some time ago a man threw a bomb at a governor, killed him and escaped. The government sent all over the empire a placard with two photographs of the assassin, his front view and his profile. And three weeks later a policeman in Western Siberia telegraphed:

"Have captured both criminals and am bringing them to Petersburg!"

At midnight in Petersburg an innocent, peace-abiding professor stood on a bridge staring down into the sluggish waters of the Neva. He was thinking of a rival professor who had a new theory about gravitation.

"That man," said the professor aloud, "is the dullest idiot in Russia."

Instantly a big policeman pounced upon him out of the darkness and without a word began dragging him off. The poor old professor shook with terror.

"Why am I arrested?" he asked.

"What is my crime?"

"High treason," growled the policeman.

"But why? Why?"

"Oh, don't try to fool me! You called His Imperial Majesty an idiot!"

"Heavens!" cried the horrified professor, the spectacles falling from his nose. "Why should you think I was speaking of the czar?"

The big policeman stopped and looked puzzled.

"The dullest idiot in Russia," he said slowly, searching his memory. "Who else could you have meant?"

Daily Thought.

"To be satisfied is dangerous—to be self-satisfied is ruinous."

It rests with the revolutionaries. The tug of war is on between the douma representing the people of Russia, and the aristocracy. The gage was thrown down when the almost unanimous vote of want of confidence in the cabinet was cast, and the douma will win in the end if the terrorists can be held in check. But they fill an anomalous position in the ferment of Russian civil life. It was in a measure due to the exhortations of the extremists that a representative assembly was brought about. Deplorable the practice of assassination as we must, the nihilists and terrorists have played their part in the drama of liberty, and at times their cruel measures have seemed almost justified. But in the reconstruction of Russia Constitutional Democrats can not depend on the support of anarchists, for they are as much opposed to one form of government as another, and habituated to thoughts of murder and deeds of violence, the anarchist will ever turn to that method of showing his lack of confidence, in preference to the more peaceful plan of the ballot. It is this bloody form that stands between the douma and the realization of the hopes of the people. Absolute amnesty to political offenders is refused, because that would liberate the bomb thrower, and in this reservation we can but sympathize with Nicholas. So, too, is there always this danger that every extension of liberty will stretch the license of the anarchist. The latter seems to have little sympathy with the efforts of the douma. In fact, it is charged that the extremists are being used by the reactionaries to terrify the czar into a refusal to surrender to the people. Russia, either aristocratic or democratic, has a problem on her hands in getting rid of the red flag mob. She has been working at the problem since the first propaganda of anarchy, but in her efforts has made martyrs of her victims, and thus with every drop of their blood planted the principles of anarchy in her very soil. It's a proof of the fact that the law is not for vengeance. Perhaps, if Russia would change the purposes and intent of her statutes they might become more efficacious without being less drastic. A man's neck can be broken just as effectually for the good of society as for the sake of revenge.

If anything like real success is to be achieved in the annual training camps for the militiamen and regulars it is apparent that the government must make the maneuvers a permanent affair. Out of 22 states invited to participate, ten have refused for various reasons to send regiments, two have answered the invitation without signifying their intentions and ten have not replied. In California the troops have had plenty of experience for one year at San Francisco. In Idaho they are guarding the miners' trials. But in other states the reasons for refusal range from previous arrangements for encampments to lack of equipment. There have been rumors that some of the militia officers were tired of working with the regulars, evidently chafing under the restraint of the military school and preferring the more impressive, if less serious, role of a commander of troops in a play camp. However, this attitude is confined to a vulgar few, without whom the service would be better off; and it is probable that the majority of the state troops would gladly take part in the maneuvers if they could. If annual maneuvers were assured and the arrangements were made from six months to a year ahead, so that the slow process of state legislation might be brought to bear on some of the details, then the states could form their plans in accordance with the scheme of the general government. There is no doubt that the maneuvers are of incalculable more benefit to the state militiamen than to the regulars. The latter are constantly in training and to a certain extent receive this same experience daily. The sterner duties of a soldier are unknown to the militiamen, as a rule. It is true, happily, that their services seldom are needed, but at such times the necessity is urgent and it is important that the troops should be competent. If any of them find the annual maneuvers too severe they could resign.

Why is not something done toward stopping the habit of expectorating on the sidewalks. Broadway sidewalks are in a filthy condition. There was a time just after the ordinance, making the practice a misdemeanor, was enacted when the sidewalks were clean, but lax enforcement of the law has permitted careless people to forget. People who forget the rules of propriety on the streets should be reminded of them in the police court. This is not being fussy. The law was enacted as a sanitary measure for the protection of public health and was urged by the local medical fraternity.

The St. Louis police found a man dead drunk on the streets Saturday with a tag fastened to his coat button, requesting them to take him to the hospital and inform his wife that he was suffering with stomach trouble. It would save a great deal of sorrow and domestic infelicity if saloon keepers in other towns would adopt this scheme of putting directions on every package.

Members of the house might as well pass the rate bill without reference. Quest for originality in investive is hopeless. Complete exhaustion of the supply is what brought the senate debate on the subject to an end. Better save their language for the stump. Run no chances of a colleague "getting back at 'em" out there.

SAID SOMETHING.

A Western congressman was talking about Quannah Parker, chief of the Comanches, who has been lying ill at his ranch in the Wichita mountains.

"Quannah Parker," the congressman said, "is a rich man and a polished man. Despite his eight wives, a moment's conversation would convince you of the intelligence, culture and wit of the chieftain."

"I once heard an ignorant commissioner make in Quannah Parker's presence a remark derogatory to the Indian race."

"The chief bit his lip, smiled, and said:

"Your remark shocks me greatly. It shocks me as an old man in New York was once shocked."

"Quannah Parker then went on to explain that the shock came to the old man as he lay dying. He was stretched out on his death bed. His pale, wasted hands picked at the coverlet. His family wept at the bedside. Finally his grandson, a boy of nine or ten, was brought in.

"Your grandpa is extremely ill," murmured the boy's mother. 'Say something to him.'"

"The child thought a little, and then said in a loud, clear treble:

"Grandpa, would you like to have soldiers to your funeral?" — American Spectator.

INVESTIGATE OSTEOPATHY.

It is a new diagnosis, a new cure aptly called "The Sane Treatment of Disease."

Osteopathy is a method of bloodless surgical manipulations to remove any obstructions interfering with the proper transference of nerve force, or the natural flow of the blood, or the other fluids, to the organ, or part involved.

It liberates the inherent vital forces of the body—the forces which, when allowed their full and unobstructed sway, have the power to gain and maintain a state of physiological equilibrium or health. In other words, allow nature to effect her own cures by a natural adjustment of any disorder in the system.

The power to heal is innate and inherent, and cannot be introduced from without, and Osteopathy cures by assisting and bringing into action that power. The taking of drugs does not add anything useful to the body—on the contrary, the effects are largely manifestations of the efforts on the part of nature to eject and rid itself of the drugs, while the loss of energy following is nothing but the further robbing of an already lowered vitality.

Osteopathy is especially effective in cases of liver, stomach and bowel disorders to which Paducah people are sufferers, and I should like to tell you briefly how and why, I can cure them so easily, if you will call.

BOX CAR KNOCKS OUT CITY LIGHTS

Morganfield's Lighting Plant Wrecked Last Week.

Coupling Pin Breaks and Car Is Kicked Onto Spur and Crashes Into Building.

MACHINERY IS BROUGHT HERE.

The city lighting plant at Morganfield, Ky., is wrecked and the plant will be brought to Paducah this week to be prepared in the Paducah Illinois Central shops. The wreck is the latest class of lark the Illinois Central rolling stock has been playing, and the damage will amount to a great deal.

The city lighting plant at Morganfield is located at the end of a spur track on the Illinois Central. A loaded box car was being pushed onto the spur. The coupling pin broke and the car bowled along and crashed into the building.

The big engine fly wheel was shattered and the dynamo wrecked besides minor other damages. John Schroeder, foreman of the local I. C. machine shops, returned from Morganfield this morning after spending Sunday inspecting the damage, and the fly wheel and other damaged machinery will be shipped to the Paducah shops at once for repairs.

The total amount of damages to the plant can not be determined, but the city is in total darkness at night and will remain so until the repair work is finished here.

IN THE COURTS

S. B. Gholson has filed suit against C. M. Black for $18 alleged to be due for gravel furnished the defendant in county road work.

Justice John J. Bleich today called his docket and set cases, this being his regular court day.

No Ticker, No Shirtee.

Louis Hammer secured a writ of delivery in Justice Charles Emery's court Saturday for a package of laundry left in the Chinese laundry, and the case will be tried Wednesday. The patron was given a check, a duplicate for the laundry mark, but he lost it, and the proprietor of the laundry refused to deliver the laundry without the check. The bill on the laundry was only 18 cents.

Family Affair.

John Rogers of near Massac, Ky., was arrested Saturday on a warrant taken out in Justice Emery's court for shooting at his father-in-law, H. C. Renick. It is alleged that he got into an argument with Renick over an injury to a colt which had been kicked. Rogers says he shot into the air to frighten, and had no intention of wounding Renick.

Police Court.

Willie Smith, the young man charged with the theft of $275 from J. S. Nolan, was granted a continuance in the police court until tomorrow. It is understood that there is no evidence against the defendant. Other cases were: Ed Bolen, colored, failing to support family, continued; Wm. Murphy, white, drunkenness, $1 and costs, set aside on recommendation of city physician; Della Gillispie, colored, drunkenness, $1 and costs; Archie Brand, colored, drunkenness, $1 and costs; Ernest Yarbor and Robert Radford, colored, fighting, continued; Adam Weikert, white, breach of the peace, continued; Elmer Gilbert, colored, breach of the peace, $3 and costs.

Three cases are set for trial before Justice Charles Emery this afternoon. They are J. S. Nolan white, breach of the peace; Mrs. Hendricks, white, breach of the peace; Charles Ford, white, breach of the peace.

Marriage Licenses.

J. E. Rudolph, aged 45, and Myrtle Bagwell, aged 24, of the county, were today licensed to marry.

F. M. Stevenson this afternoon filed a suit in circuit court against Roda Stevenson for divorce and the custody of several children. They were married May 10, 1874, and separated on May 18, 1906. He alleges immorality.

KNIGHT HOTEL BADLY DAMAGED

Defective Wiring Causes Blaze at Fulton.

Smoke From Attic Warns Innates Early Sunday Morning Before It Has Headway.

WHOLE BUILDING IS FLOODED

The fine Knight hotel in Fulton, Ky., was damaged to the extent of $5,000 by water Sunday morning about 7 o'clock. A fire started from an electric wire in the attic, it is thought, and the firemen flooded the building to stay the conflagration.

The fire was discovered before it had gained any great headway, but was difficult to fight. The firemen poured streams into the attic and flooded the building. Pictures and household effects were damaged, but the loss is covered by insurance. The exact estimate on the loss can not be made until the drying process has been gone through with and the extent of the soaking learned.

RIVER

The gauge at the river does not register the river's stages any more accurately than the faces and feelings of the river men. The steady fall has produced a corresponding change of countenance and mood in river men. It registered 6.2 this morning, a fall of .6 in the last 24 hours. Weather cloudy.

The Bettie Owen has finally gotten upon the ways and the slight repairs to be made there will soon be finished and the boat will resume its regular runs.

The Sallito was due today from St. Louis for the Tennessee river.

The Butteroff arrived last night from Nashville and left today at noon for Clarksville, Tenn.

The Dick Fowler carried a fair crowd on his excursion yesterday to Smithland. It left this morning for Cairo, returning tonight.

The scene at the wharf this morning was that of a typical winter's day. The absence of the sun with a strong, cold breeze, gave it a December rather than a May day appearance.

The Joe Fowler arrived Sunday at noon from Evansville and left at 11 o'clock this morning on the return trip. The John Hopkins tomorrow.

The Clyde will come out of the Tennessee river tonight and lie over until Wednesday evening when it starts out again for the same river.

The Georgia Lee came in Sunday afternoon, 24 hours late with a long tale of trouble to relate. Couldn't get sufficient labor to do things right and so everything went wrong. A distance up the river while shipping the stage plank, not being sufficiently manned, it swung against a hay-press and knocked it into the river. It is still there, but will be fished out later. The shortage of labor here is attributed to the large amount of street and street railway work being done here now, causing a brisk demand for men. The Georgia Lee was bound for Memphis from Cincinnati.

The George Cowling passed here Sunday afternoon with an excursion, but did not stop.

The steamer Charleston which sank near Hickman, is not thought to be lost, and carpenters and caulkers are working on her preparatory to an attempt to raise the craft.

Says the Memphis Commercial Appeal: The commissioner of navigation at Washington, D. C., has authorized the surveyor of customs of this port to change the name of the steamer City of Wheeling to Harry Lee, which is owned by the Lee Line. The Harry Lee will take the place of the James Lee in the Memphis and Friars Point trade next Wednesday. The James Lee will go to Paducah for repairs.

New York, May 28.—Josephine Terranova was declared insane by the commission, according to information reached by the defendant's counsel this afternoon. The commission, it is said, will request that the trial be stopped and the girl sent to an asylum.

NEWS NOTES FROM SUNDAY PAPERS.

Senator Morgan has had printed by application to the senate through Senator Millard, chairman of the committee on interoceanic canals, a resume of all of the refusals of William Nelson Cromwell, of New York, to answer questions bearing on his relations as counsel to the new Panama canal company. The statement is prepared to support Senator Morgan's motion to require the witness to answer, which the Alabama senator intends to press to a decision when the canal investigation is resumed.

After a turbulent session of seven hours the lower house of the Russian parliament indignantly rejected the government's policy as presented by Premier Goremykin, and with only seven dissenting votes declared a lack of confidence in the ministry and demanded the retirement of the present cabinet. The spirit of absolute revolution is in the air at St. Petersburg and gloomy forebodings are everywhere expressed.

The interstate commerce commission adjourned its hearing in Cleveland, after listening to the testimony of thirty-five witnesses. The Standard Oil company is to be given an opportunity later on to reply to the charges in evidence.

Delegates to the Tennessee state convention, which will nominate a Democratic candidate for governor, are arriving in Nashville. The race between Cox and Patterson is close and bitter. The main fight in the convention will be in the committee on credentials, many delegations being contested.

The general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States came to an end in Des Moines, Ia., after a solemn declaration regarding the union with the Cumberland church had been promulgated. The color question was raised and resulted in sharp debate, no action being taken.

President Roosevelt has received indirectly protests against the incorporation of the amendment of Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, to the agricultural appropriation bill, providing for a rigid inspection of meats for domestic use. The expectation is that the amendment will remain in the bill.

Lillard H. Carter, who served as acting governor for a few days following the killing of William Goebel, yesterday announced that he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for attorney general if a primary is called.

AN APPEAL FOR JIM HOWARD'S FAMILY

Responding to an urgent appeal made by republicans and democrats alike, The Sun presents a plain statement of fact in regard to James B. Howard's stricken family.

James B. Howard is now confined in the penitentiary, where he will serve a life sentence, having been convicted of the murder of William Goebel, five years ago.

Mrs. James B. Howard and her three little children are the innocent victims of the predicament Mr. Howard finds himself placed in by process of law. For five years this heroic woman has labored unceasingly, and never without hope, to secure a vindication for her husband. Their little home has been swept into the legal maelstrom, and today they are dependent on charity for the clothes they wear, and even for the bread they eat.

This condition will not be permitted to remain as long as there are tender hearts in Old Kentucky. This loyal wife has, by a devotion typical of Southern womanhood, touched the finest instincts of the human race. Facing the darkest gloom, from day to day, she has presented to a devoted husband a smiling and unflinching optimism that has undoubtedly braced him for the heavy ordeal he has undergone.

These three children are winsome children—for both the father and mother are persons of education and refinement. They are denied a home, an opportunity to acquire knowledge, a right to a father's care and protection.

Is it not a worthy case? Think as you may of the guilt or innocence of Jim Howard, here are helpless beings cast adrift on a world none too sympathetic, unless aroused to the cry of urgent want.

The Sun will acknowledge receipt of all money sent to it for "The Mrs. James B. Howard Fund."

A dime, a dollar a hundred dollars, or any amount, given in such a cause, will be "bread cast upon the waters," and such, the Great Father assures us "will come back an hundredfold."

At the next meeting of the Riverside hospital board a staff of physicians for the hospital will be selected. It is proposed to change this staff every few months so that every physician and surgeon in the city may get the benefit of hospital practice. Rules and regulations for the conduct of the hospital are now being prepared and will be considered at the board meeting. The adoption of the staff system will place the Riverside hospital on a thoroughly modern basis and will result, not only in raising the plane of practice at the hospital, but will have an uplifting influence among the individual practitioners.

Thieves stole supper and a lot of groceries and edibles from the residence of Mrs. G. S. Sarratt, 899 South Fourth street, Saturday night. A fresh boiled ham had been left on the supper table and the thieves cut the screen door and entered the house. They ate all on the table, took the ham and every other edible and groceries they could lay hands on, and left. Neighbors say they noticed negroes enter the house early in the evening, but could not identify them.

SCALE OF PRICES

Of Indiana Legislators May Be Exposed.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 28.—Votes of certain members of the Indiana legislature are rated at $1,000, others are put at $500, and some as low as $250 by the American Tobacco company, according to Arthur L. Hughes, an attorney of Wabash, Ind., who says he holds letters from a trusted employee of the great corporation to Oscar A. Baker, formerly its agent, which will prove his statements.

These letters, he declares, would convince not only a number of sons, but members of the lobby and even municipal authorities in a number of towns in the state who heretofore have not been suspected. He is willing to submit them as evidence to a grand jury provided Baker who is his father-in-law, will be assured immunity from prosecution.

Week's Forecast.

The senate is counting on a busy week. Two appropriation bills will be presented and the canal bill will be pressed steadily as possible. In addition, the conferees will be appointed on the railroad rate bill. Several other bills will be considered. Conference reports on agricultural and legislative appropriation bills probably will be made this week, and the report of the conferees on the Indian bill may be taken up. The work on the sundry civil appropriation bill will begin in the national house. This bill carries an aggregate of about $90,000,000. The item relates to practically every branch of the public service. Chairman Tawney estimates it will require fully a week to consider the bill. It will not be reported until Wednesday. It is the plan to finish the diplomatic and consular bill Tuesday and continue the consideration of the naturalization bill. The controversy between the pure food and immigration bills will follow.

HORSE STEALING

CHARGED AGAINST JOHN ISBELL
AT SMITHLAND.

Prisoner Claimed to Have Been Robbed in Paducah Several Weeks Ago.

John Isbell is under arrest in Livingston county for alleged horse stealing, and owners of a horse and buggy, Isbell is alleged to have done away with, are en route to Smithland to identify the rig.

Isbell is alleged to have hired the rig in Columbus, Ky. He passed through Paducah and was directed to Smithland. Officers were notified and at Lola, Livingston county, Isbell was taken yesterday.

Owners of the horse and buggy started yesterday afoot to get to Smithland right away. Isbell is the same man who was robbed, or alleged to have been robbed, at the Paducah Illinois Central depot several weeks ago.

Tag Tied to Button.

St. Louis, Mo., May 28.—Officer Dunn, of central district, found a man on the sidewalk at Fourth street and Washington avenue last night about 9 o'clock. He was apparently under the influence of liquor to such an extent that he could not walk nor tell his name. Tied to a button-hole was a card bearing the following inscription:

I am out for a time. When I can't walk, tie this in my button-hole, steal my pocketbook sponge by clothes, and cart me home. Harry Hawes, Third street and Lucas avenue. Liquor has the best of me. Keep this out of the newspapers and tell my wife it was stomach trouble.

He was sent to the city hospital, where, at a late hour last night he had not regained consciousness. His condition is considered serious.

Honorary Scholarship.

Mr. E. G. Payne, principal of the Paducah High school, has won an honorary scholarship in the University of Chicago by the excellence of his work in several studies carried on by correspondence during the winter. Mr. Payne had attended this university four seasons taking summer courses, and has done excellent work. In recognition of his efforts the faculty awarded a free scholarship and Mr. Payne will attend this summer.

Fainted From Fatigue.

Ulrich Elliott, a Paducah newspaper carrier, started out to see the world last week on a bicycle. He rode five miles past Mayfield and fainted from fatigue. He was returned home to his parents Saturday. The boy is alleged to have started to run away, but claims he was only going to Wingo to visit his grandfather. He will take the railroad next time.

TOBACCO TRUST

WILL BE PROBED AND STANLEY GETS THE FLOOR.

American Continental and Imperial Companies to Be Reported On to House.

Washington, D. C., May 28.—Representative Stanley got the floor this afternoon to discuss his resolution directing the president to report to the house all facts within the knowledge of the department of commerce and labor, which tend to show the existence of a combination between the American Tobacco company, the Continental Tobacco company and The Imperial Tobacco company for the restraint of trade.

Two twists of tobacco and a book on birds which were wrapped in papers and dated 1806, were found between the plastering and weather boarding on the farm of West Lowe, near Bowling Green. The tobacco is therefore 100 years old at least. It will be sent to Louisville for the Home-Coming week.

SUMMER THIS SUMMER IN COLORADO

Many people put aside all thought of an outing in Colorado because they are accustomed to consider this greatest of American play grounds as one of those impossible things beyond their means. Time was when a visit to the "top of the continent" was a great luxury, as high in price as in altitude, but not so today.

You can spend the summer or a part of the summer in Colorado and live as reasonably as you do at home, and the quick service and low tourist and excursion rates afforded via Rock Island lines bring the Rockies within your easy reach.

BLACKBURN WILL MAKE THE FIGHT

Anti-Administration Men Urge Him For Governor.

Ollie James Positively Refuses to Be Candidate and All Turn to Senator.

CONFERENCE AT WASHINGTON

In spite of repeated denials contained in press dispatches from Washington, says the Louisville Herald, information is out believed to be authoritative that Senator J. C. S. Blackburn will be the anti-administration candidate for governor. It is learned that several members of the Kentucky delegation in congress held a conference in Washington Wednesday, and agreed to lend their support and influence to Senator Blackburn in the event that he becomes a candidate.

While Senator Blackburn has said that he is not a candidate for governor he has never said that he would not yield to the wishes of his friends, and make the race if they so desired. On the contrary he said on one occasion that he would do the bidding of his friends, and if they thought that he was the logical candidate to oppose Judge Hager and the machine he would abide by their decision.

It is known that Senator Blackburn and Senator McCreary were anxious to have Congressman Ollie James make the race against Judge Hager, and they have not yet given up all hope of persuading the big congressman from the First district to enter the race. Senator Blackburn would only be too glad to get out of the way of Mr. James, but the latter seems to be content to remain a member of the house of representatives. It is in the event that Mr. James positively refuses to make the race that Senator Blackburn will consent to become a candidate.

Wants Machine Defeated.

Only recently Senator Blackburn told one of his warmest supporters, who was urging him to make the race for governor, that he would much prefer retiring to his home in Woodford county after his term as senator had expired. He said at the time that he believed it to be the best interests of the Democratic party that the machine candidate be defeated, but that he thought a younger man could better accomplish the overthrow of the machine. It was then that he was told that the mention of his probable candidacy had been received with favor by Democrats in all parts of Kentucky, and he remarked that if he was the choice of the opponents of the machine and the people wanted him to be a candidate he would make the race for governor.

Urey Woodson, secretary of the Democratic national committee, who left here ten days ago, ostensibly to spend a month in California, is now in Washington. He is one of the anti-administration leaders, and it is said that the object of his visit in Washington at this time is to report to Senator Blackburn the condition of political affairs in Kentucky and urge him to run for governor. Mr. Woodson's original choice for governor, like others of the opposition leaders, is Congressman Ollie James, but with Mr. James out of the way he is said to favor Senator Blackburn whom he believes could defeat Judge Hager for the nomination.

Made Happy for Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Albans, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters; and I rejoice to say, three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by McPherson's drug store. Price 50c.

BUILT UP HER HEALTH SPEEDY CURE OF MISS GOODE

She is Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Writes Gratefully to Mrs. Pinkham.

For the wonderful help that she has found Miss Cora Goode, 255 E. Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Ill., believes it her duty to write the following letter for publication, in order that other women afflicted in the same way may be benefited as she was.

Miss Cora Goode

benefited as she was. Miss Goode is president of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago. She writes: "I tried many different remedies to build up my system, which had become run down from loss of proper rest and unreasonable hours, but nothing seemed to help me. Mother is a great advocate of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it, and in less than a month I was able to be out of bed and out of doors, and in three months I was entirely well. Really I have never felt so strong and well as I have since."

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacement of organs, inflammation or ulceration, can be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Her experience is very great, and she gives the benefit of it to all who stand in need of wise counsel. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

FREAK LIGHTNING STRIKES FREIGHT

Norwegian Bark Dismasted By Storm in Mid-ocean

Canadian Grain Elevator Slides Into River Causing Damage of a Quarter Million.

WHOLE CITY BLOCK BURNED.

Montreal, May 28.—Capt. Nunan, of the Allan line liner, reached Port Try from Liverpool and reports that on May 21 in mid-ocean he rescued Capt. Hans Therassen and crew of 15, of the Norwegian bark "Trio" of Tonsberg. The Trio was dismasted in a storm.

Lightning Struck Train.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 28.—Lightning struck a freight train on the Missouri Pacific here today and instantly killed W. H. Edwards, a brakeman. Several cars were slightly damaged.

Block of Houses.

Gaylord, Mich., May 28.—Fire here last night destroyed a block of business buildings. Loss $64,000, insurance about $31,000.

Slid Into the River.

Port William, Ont., May 28.—The Ogilvie company's grain elevator started to slide into the river during the night. It was impossible to save it. Displacement of pile foundation is believed to be the cause. Men were working all day to save 350,000 bushels of grain. Seventy-five or seventy-eight per cent can be saved. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

MAYOR SIGNS DEED.

Transfer of Mechanicsburg School Is Completed.

Mayor Yeiser signed the deed transferring the Mechanicsburg school on Clements street to the school board today. This property belonged to the city under the third class charter but since the city became second class all school property is owned by the school board which is a separate corporation. The school board said this property several months ago but could not deed it to the purchasers. The purchase money has been lying in bank awaiting this act by the mayor and will be turned over to the school board today.

A Year of Blood.

The year 1902 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tackett, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tackett's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me to death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." Guaranteed for sore lungs, coughs and colds, at McPherson's Drug Store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Growing Aches and Pains.

Mrs. Josie Sumner, Bremond, Tex., writes, April 15, 1902: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in the house. I have used it on my little girl for growing pains and aches in her knees. It cured her right away. I have also used it for frost bitten feet, with good success. It is the best liniment I ever used." 25c, 50c and $1.00.

Sold by Alvey & List.

Railway Surgeons.

The first annual meeting of the Kentucky State Association of Railway Surgeons will be held at Richmond, Ky., May 29 and 30. Dr. Clarence H. Vaught is chairman of the committee on arrangements, and Dr. H. C. Jasper is chairman of the reception committee.

Had a Close Call.

"A dangerous surgical operation, involving the removal of a malignant ulcer, as large as my hand, from my daughter's hip, was prevented by the application of Bucklen's Arnica Salve," says A. C. Stickle, of Miletus, W. Va. "Persistent use of the Salve completely cured it." Cures cuts, burns and injuries. 25c at McPherson's drug store.

Public Dance at Park.

The first dance of the season will be given at Wallace park pavilion Thursday night. No improper characters will be allowed. Frank Jones' orchestra will furnish music. Frank Augustus, manager.

A Positive Necessity.

Having to lay upon my bed for 14 days from a severely bruised leg, I only found relief when I used a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. I can cheerfully recommend it as the best medicine for bruises ever sent to the afflicted. It has now become a positive necessity upon myself.

D. R. Byrnes, Merchant, Doversville, Texas, 25c and 50c and $1.00. Sold by Alvey & List.

KING FOR A DAY

By
W. A. FRASER

COPYRIGHT BY S. S. MCCLURE CO.

SIR LEMUEL JONES, C. I. E., was chief commissioner of Burma. Lawrence Jones, captain of the tramp steamer Newcastle Maid, was his brother. More than that, they were twins, as like as two drops of water. It was his brother that he was only captain of a freighter, but they both enjoyed themselves, each after his kind.

One morning in November the Newcastle Maid glided up the Irrawadi and swung to moorings just off the main wharf at Rangoon. Larry had not seen his brother for years, and for the matter of that, did not care if many more years passed before he saw him. Their paths ran at right angles. He was there for a cargo of rice, not to renew family ties.

It was because the chief engineer of the Newcastle Maid was a man after his own heart that he said before going ashore: "I don't want to get into a galley here, for I've had a letter from the owners over that last break I made in Calcutta. If I come off seas over just look me in the cabin and don't let me out. No matter what I say, keep me there until I'm braced up."

Then the captain went ashore. He took a drive out through the cantonments. As he bowed along in the old gharry a new experience came to him. Gentlemen lifted their hats and ladies driving in their carriages smiled and bowed in the most gracious manner.

"I wonder if there's anything sticking to my face," thought Larry, and he passed his hand carefully over its rounded surface. It seemed all right. But still they kept it up—everybody he met, and one officer, galloping by on his pony, took a pull at the animal's head and shouted, "Are you coming to the club tonight, sir?"

"No," roared the captain, for he hadn't the faintest idea of going to a club without an invitation. "They'll be awfully disappointed," came the echo of the officer's voice as the gharry opened up a gap between them.

"Very kind," muttered Larry, "but I fancy they'll get over it. Must have taken me for somebody else."

The next minute Larry was busy staring open mouthed at the image of himself sitting in a carriage just in front. The carriage was turning out of a compound and blocked the road so that his own driver was forced to stop. He recognized the other man. It was Sir Lemuel, his twin brother.

The recognition was mutual. The commissioner bowed quite coldly as the captain called out, "How are you, Lemuel?"

Then the big Water horses whipped the carriage down the road at a slashing gait, and Larry was left alone. "So that's why they've been taking off their hats to me," he mused. "They take me for Sir Lemuel. Great time he must have ruling these yellow niggers out here. I'd like to be in his shoes just for a day to see how it feels to be king of Burma."

All the way back to the hotel he was thinking about it. Arrived there, he wrote a note addressed to the chief commissioner and sent it off by a native. "That will bring him," he muttered. "He always was a bit afraid of me."

It was 6 o'clock when Sir Lemuel arrived in his carriage. There was a great scurrying about of servants and no end of salaaming the "Lat Sahib," for it was not often the chief commissioner honored the hotel with his presence. He was shown to Captain Jones' room.

"Take a seat, Lem," said Captain Larry cheerfully. "I wanted to see you and thought you'd rather come here than receive me at Government house."

"Please be brief, then," said Sir Lemuel in his most dignified manner. "I have to attend a dinner at the club tonight in honor of the return of our judicial commissioner."

"Oh, Sir Lemuel will be there in time for that," chuckled the captain. "But first, Lem, for the sake of old times, I want you to drink a glass of wine with me. You know, we took a drink together pretty often the first year of our existence." Then he broke into a loud sailor laugh that irritated the commissioner.

"While I don't approve of drinking to the extent you have carried it," said Sir Lemuel, with judicial severity, "still I can't refuse a glass proffered by my brother."

"Your twin brother," broke in Larry, "of whom you've always been so fond, you know."

"I really must be going, so please tell me why you've sent for me." But when he had drunk the glass of wine he gave up all idea of going anywhere but to sleep, for he was drugged.

Then Captain Larry stripped his brother, peeled the august body of the commissioner as one would strip a willow, and draped him in his own sailor outfit. "You're a groggy looking captain," he said as he tried to brace the figure up in a big chair. "You're a disgrace to the service. You'll have your papers taken away first thing you know."

most completely intoxicated. Never saw a man get drunk so quickly in my life. Can you have him sent off to his ship so that he won't get in disgrace? It's my express wish that this should be done, as he has been of service to me."

"All right, sir," exclaimed the hotel keeper, touching his forehead with his forefinger in salute, "I will get Captain Davin, who is a great friend of his, to take him off right away."

"Most considerate man, the chief commissioner," remarked the boniface as the carriage rolled away. The carriage swung in under a shed-like portico at the front of a big straggling bungalow. The driver pulled up his horses. The two yakkal bearing footmen, who had jumped down from their places behind as the carriage turned in off the road, ran hastily up, opening the door and lowering the steps for The Presence, the Lat Sahib, the Father of all Burmans.

"Hello! There's the ship's log!" exclaimed the captain, looking at the log visitors' book in the entrance. "Wonder where I've got to sign that? The ship musters a big crew," as he ran his eye down the long list of names.

"When does The Presence want the carriage?" asked a ponderous, much liveried native servant, making a deep salaam.

The captain pulled out his watch—Sir Lemuel's watch. "It's a beauty," he mused as his eyes fell on its rich yellow sides. "Right away, mate—I mean boss—that is, tell him not to go away. Wonder what that fellow's proper title is on the muster?"

"Ah, you're to dine at the club tonight, Sir Lemuel," a cheery English voice said as a young man came out of a room on the right.

"I know that," angrily answered Larry. "I don't have to be told my business."

"Certainly, Sir Lemuel; but you asked me to jog your memory, as you are so apt to forget these things, you know."

"Quite right, quite right," answered the captain. "If you catch me forgetting anything else just hold out a signal—that is, tip me the wink, will you?"

"We've had a telegram from Lady Jones, Sir Lemuel."

The cold perspiration stood out on the captain's forehead. This was something he had forgotten all about. A bachelor himself, it had never occurred to him that Sir Lemuel was probably married and that he would have to face the wife.

"Where is she? When is she coming back?" he gasped.

"Oh, Sir Lemuel, it was only to say that she had arrived safely in Rangoon."

"Thank God for that!" exclaimed the captain, with a rare burst of reverence. The private secretary looked rather astonished. Sir Lemuel had always been a very devoted husband, but not the sort of man to give way to an expression of strong feeling simply because his wife had arrived at the end of her journey.

"Do you happen to remember what she said about coming back?" he asked of the wondering secretary.

"No, Sir Lemuel; but she'll probably remain till her sister is out of danger—a couple of weeks, perhaps."

"Of course, of course," said the captain. "Thank the Lord—I mean I'm so glad that she's had a safe voyage." He corrected himself, heaving a great sigh of relief. "That's one rock out of the channel," he muttered.

A bearer was waiting patiently for him to go and change his dress. The captain whistled softly to himself when he saw the dress suit all laid out and everything in perfect order for a "quick change," as he called it. As he finished dressing the "boss"—he of the gorgeous livery—appeared, announcing, "Johnson Sahib, sir."

"Who?" queried Captain Larry.

"Secretary Sahib, sir."

"Oh, that's my private secretary," he thought.

"I've brought the speech, Sir Lemuel," said the young man as he entered.

"You'll hardly have time to go through it before we start."

Do You Want to Know What You Swallow?

There is a growing sentiment in this country in favor of MEDICINES OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. It is but natural that one should have some interest in the composition of that which he or she is expected to swallow, whether it be food, drink or medicine.

Recognizing this growing disposition on the part of the public, and satisfied that the fullest publicity can only add to the well-earned reputation of his medicines, Dr. E. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has "taken time by the forelock," as it were, and is publishing broadcast a list of all the ingredients entering into his leading medicines, the "Golden Medical Discovery," the popular liver invigorator, stomach tonic, blood purifier and heart regulator; also of his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, broken-down, nervous and invalid women.

This bold and outspoken movement on the part of Dr. Pierce, has, by showing exactly what his well-known medicines are composed of, completely disarmed all harping critics who have heretofore unjustly attacked them. A little pamphlet has been compiled, from the standard medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, showing the strongest endorsements by leading medical writers of the several ingredients which enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines. A copy of this little book is mailed free to any one desiring to learn more concerning the valuable, native, medicinal plants which enter into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules. They regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Do not "beget the pill habit," but cure constipation. One or two each day for a laxative and regulator, three or four for an active cathartic. Once tried always in favor.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY. In copies of Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 500,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away 50,000 worth of these invaluable little books. This year we shall give away $50,000 worth of them. Will you share in the benefit? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for books and paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Look here, Johnson," he said, "I think fever or something's working on me. I can't remember men's faces, and I get their names all mixed up. I wouldn't go to this dinner tonight if I hadn't promised to. I ought to stay at home. Now I want you to help me through, and if it goes off all right I'll double your salary next month. Safe to promise that," he muttered to himself. "Let Lem attend to it."

At the club as the captain entered the band struck up "God Save the Queen."

"By jingo, we're late!" he said. "The show is over."

"He has got fever or sun, sure," thought his companion. "Oh, no, Sir Lemuel, they're waiting for you to sit down to dinner. There's Mr. Barnes, the judicial commissioner, talking to Colonel Short, sir," added the secretary, pointing to a tall, clerical looking gentleman.

"He's looking very much out of order over the loss of his wife."

"Wife dead; must remember that," thought Larry.

Just then the judicial commissioner caught sight of the captain and hastened forward to greet him. "How do you do, dear Sir Lemuel? I called this afternoon. So sorry to find that Lady Jones was away. You must find it very lonely, Sir Lemuel. I understand this is the first time you have been separated during the many years of your married life."

"Yes, I shall miss the little woman. That great barracks is not the same without her sweet little face about."

"That's a pretty tall order," ejaculated a young officer to a friend. And it was, considering that Lady Jones was an Amazonian type of woman, five feet ten, much given to running the whole state and known as the "Ironclad." But Larry didn't know that and had to say something.

"Dear Lady Jones," sighed the judicial commissioner pathetically. "I suppose she returns almost immediately."

"The Lord forbid—at least not for a few days. I want her to enjoy herself while she's away. You will feel the loss of your wife, Mr. Barnes, even more than I, for of course she will never come back to you."

To say that general consternation followed this venture of the captain is drawing it very mild indeed, for the J. C.'s wife was not dead at all, but had wandered far away with a lieutenant in a Madras regiment.

"It's the Ironclad put him up to that. She was always down on the J. C. for marrying a girl half his age," said an assistant deputy commissioner to a man standing beside him.

The secretary was tugging energetically at the captain's coat tails. "What is it, Johnson?" he asked, suddenly realizing the tug.

"Dinner is on, sir."

Owing to the indisposition of the chief commissioner, by special arrangement the secretary sat at his left, which was rather fortunate, for, by the time dinner was over, the captain had looked upon the wine and seen that it was good—had looked several times.

"Shall we have the honor of your presence at the races tomorrow?" pleasantly asked a small, witty man, four seats down the table.

The captain was caught unawares and blurted out, "Where are they?"

"On the race course, sir."

The answer was a simple, straightforward one, but nevertheless it made everybody laugh.

"I thought they were on the moon," said the captain in a nettled tone.

A man doesn't laugh at a chief commissioner's joke, as a rule, because it's funny, but the mirth that followed this was genuine enough.

"Sir Lemuel is coming out," said Captain Lushton. "Pity the Ironclad wouldn't go away every week."

LETTER WRITERS ARE THE BRITISH

Anglo-Saxons Lead in the Use of the Mail.

Temperament Has More Than Education to Do With the Practice of Correspondence.

COLOR CHERRIES IN FRANCE.

Washington, May 28.—The Anglo-Saxon leads the world as a letter writer, according to figures just issued by the department of state, and of the race, the English have a slight lead over their American cousins. Every resident of Great Britain writes 78.3 letters annually while a citizen of the United States sets along with 67.6 in the same length of time. Other countries contribute to the world's correspondence in the following order: New Zealand, 66.3; Switzerland, 59.7; Germany, 55.9; Denmark, 41.6; Austria, 38.2; Argentina, 37.2; Luxembourg, 34.6; Holland, 31.1; Belgium, 29.4; Sweden, 26.4; France, 26.2; and Norway, 20.5. The figures afford an interesting commentary on the development of education in its effect on correspondence, for, contrary to expectations, countries having compulsory education such as France, Denmark and Norway, hold a mediocre, while other countries noted for the percentage of illiteracy are well in front. Neither does commercial development figure, or both France and Belgium would hold better positions. Facilities for correspondence do not increase it, for Switzerland with one postoffice for every 896 citizens stands far below England with one for every 1,859. In the end, the whole question seems to be explainable on the grounds of temperament, especially in view of the fact that on the continent it is known that an Englishman will write to a friend only fifteen minutes away, while a Frenchman will walk. Incidentally, it is interesting to note that while Uncle Sam runs his postal service at a large annual loss, Great Britain manages to make some $23,000,000 annually from hers, with Russia a close second.

Jaikwar of Baroda.

His highness, the dusky Gaikwar of Baroda, has been "doing" Washington thoroughly this week. The Indian potentate, ruler over more than 3,000,000 people and the most enlightened and progressive sovereign in his country, has been a disappointment to many who expected something sensational in the way of dress and jewels when the royal party came to town. Instead of scintillating with gems and making glad the boulevards with gay apparel, the Gaikwar and his wife, the Maharanee, wear ordinary dress. Tuxedo, their watches and chains and a ring or two no jewelry is in evidence. The Gaikwar has spent a day in the senate galleries has called on President Roosevelt, and generally has explored Washington. His call on the president was an event to which he had looked forward, for his highness has been called the Roosevelt of India because of his advanced ideas and his strenuous notions of reform.

Congressional Secrets.

While far Western constituents may believe that congress is made up of a body of men with vast and innumerable secrets locked in their breasts from which they might profit, their Eastern brethren do not look at it in that way. At least, Congressman McCall, of Massachusetts, doesn't, for he was chiefly instrumental in defeating the bill, which, as a direct result of the "cotton leak," proposed to make premature exposure of secret government information a penal offense. This wonderful secret information doesn't exist, according to Mr. McCall, or, at least, it doesn't exist sufficiently to enable anyone to profit by it. "Why I venture to say, so far as speculation is concerned," remarked the New Englander, "that if both houses of congress should be assembled in joint convention and we should pool all our so-called 'secret information,' arm some one with it, and send him forth to Wall street and back him with our means, we should all be bankrupt."

Since Mr. McCall is now serving his sixth term in congress, it generally is admitted that he knows what he is talking about, in spite of the fact that this admission punctures one of the beautiful popular fallacies concerning our national lawgivers.

Coloring Cherries.

Painting the rose red may be a thankless task if one William Shakespeare is to be believed, but there is good money in painting the cherry red, even though it be of that color naturally. Indeed, artificially coloring cherries for canning is a great industry, not in this country, where we are supposed to lead the world in tricks of the trade but in France, according to the department of state. Cherry growers and canners of this country complain that they find it difficult to compete with French manufacturers even in the United States, because, though fruit is of a much better quality, it lacks the inviting and luscious redness of the French product. Consul Skinner, writing from France, explains that this color is obtained by first bleaching the cherries with sulphuric acid and then recoloring them with aniline dyes. Thus the Frenchmen fairly outstrip nature, and in improving on her handiwork, rake American dollars into their pockets. It now remains to be seen whether American canners will take this explanation as the sufficient word to the wise.

Confederate Memorial.

The joint committee in charge of arrangements for decorating the graves of the Confederate soldiers who died while prisoners of war in this vicinity during the civil war, and whose bodies are buried in Arlington cemetery, had a business meeting in Confederate Veterans' hall. Much interest was manifested in the coming exercises, which will take place at the Confederate section in the cemetery on Sunday afternoon, June 3.

BLACKSMITHS GO TO CONFERENCE

Meet With Illinois Central Officials in Chicago.

Date Set for Tuesday, Same Time
Carmen Meet Representatives
At Jackson.

NEWS FROM THE LOCAL SHOPS

The conference between the employees and officials of the Illinois Central relative to the new scale in the blacksmiths' union has been set for May 29, tomorrow, at Chicago. This advice came Sunday. This is the same date arranged for the Carmen conference at Jackson, Tenn., and it is presumed that subordinate officials to Supt. Renshaw will remain at Chicago to meet these delegations, or Mr. Renshaw will remain there himself and send his assistants. Buker and Neuffer, to Jackson.

Agent Sick.

Thomas Watson, night ticket agent and operator for the local Illinois Central, is ill, suffering from the measles, and Mr. J. James, day operator, is acting as night agent until his recovery. Operator J. N. Carahan is acting as day operator in the depot to fill Operator James' place.

Goes to Jackson.

Mr. Quincey Wallace, secretary of the joint protective board of Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, left this morning for Jackson, Tenn., where tomorrow he will attend the conference between the Illinois Central officials and the delegates from the brotherhood to present and arrange a new contract for the Carmen for the ensuing year.

Mr. W. H. Mustaine, of Greenwood, Miss., who has been visiting in Nashville, returned to Paducah yesterday. His wife is visiting in Russellville, and the two will return home the latter part of the week. He formerly was the Illinois Central ticket agent here.

ON BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREWS

E. C. McAllister, of Boston, at Grace Episcopal Church.

Rev. T. J. Newell Reports to Broadway Church On Work of the General Conference.

SUCCESSFUL REVIVALS HELD

Mr. E. C. McAllister of Boston, Mass., made an address yesterday morning at Grace Episcopal church on "The Work of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew." Mr. McAllister is traveling in the interest of this organization and has visited twenty-three states in the last eighteen months. He is a most agreeable speaker and made a pleasant impression on the large congregation who heard him. The Brotherhood of St. Andrew is an organization of the men of the Protestant Episcopal churches, and is doing a fine work. There was formerly a chapter of the Brotherhood at Grace church, and Mr. Wright probably will have the work started again soon.

Grace church will resume evening services next Sunday. During last winter and the spring services have been held at 4:30 in the afternoon, but that hour is proving a little warm now.

Spoke Twice.

The Rev. W. H. Pinkerton, who is spending a few days in the city, after delivering an address at the Christian church Sunday school, and Missionary convention at Murray last week, filled the pulpit of the First Christian church yesterday morning by special request. At night Dr. Pinkerton preached for Dr. Cave at the First Presbyterian church. On both occasions he was heard by interested congregations, including many of Dr. Pinkerton's friends who are not members of either of these churches.

Interesting Revival.

An interesting revival is in progress at the Methodist Chapel, recently completed on Guthrie avenue. The Rev. T. J. Owen is in charge of the work there, and is being assisted by the Rev. Mr. Prayther, of Madisonville, who leads the singing. There have already been twenty additions to the church since Tuesday when the meeting began. Services every day this week at 3 p. m. and 7:45 p. m.

Well Attended.

The services yesterday at the Trimble Street Methodist church, where a protracted meeting is in progress, were largely attended. The Rev. R. E. Brassfield of Barlow, who is assisting the Rev. W. W. Armstrong, in the work, preached strong sermons morning and night and much interest was evinced. There were two additions to the church at the evening hour. The services will continue all week at 9 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.

Meetings Close.

Rev. P. H. Fields closed the protracted services that have been in progress for two weeks at the Third street Methodist church, last night. There has been great interest manifested, and there were eight additions to the church yesterday. Rev. Mr. Watts of Lovelaceville, who has been assisting the Rev. P. H. Fields, has returned home.

The Rev. Newell.

The Rev. T. J. Newell, who has been absent from the city for two Sundays, filled his pulpit at the Broadway Methodist church yesterday morning and evening. Dr. Newell's theme for both services was "A Voice From the Church," and was a resume of the leading events of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, recently in session at Birmingham, Ala., which Dr. Newell attended for eight days. His report dealt with the principal work of the body which was more than usually important, and he set the laws enacted clearly before his people. Dr. Newell paid high compliment to Vice President Fairbanks, who attended as a fraternal delegate from the Methodist Episcopal church describing him as a splendid physical specimen of American manhood, over six feet in height. Mr. Fairbanks was introduced to the conference as one who "had descended from one of the highest places of the government to come as a representative to the Church of Christ," and he met the occasion finely by saying that no one could descend from any position, however high, to come as an ambassador to the Church of Christ. Such was always an ascent, never a descent.

Fought Two Burglars.

Will Dooms of Adams street near Ninth street, had an exciting encounter with two negro burglars Saturday evening. He heard the negroes trying to get into his house, and securing a club went out to investigate. One of the negroes grabbed the club and then

Sale to raise. He procured an ear syringe and rigged up a bottle and says the rabbits take to the new fangled method of securing nourishment as readily as they would to a natural one. Mr. Sale is the well known Illinois Central caboose maker.

Frog Hunting Contest Latest

Amusement of Local Sports.

A frog contest is the latest feature of sport in Paducah and the first will be pulled off this week on the private frog farm of James Ogden the Illinois Central boilermaker of Littleville, Mr. Ogden over a year ago started up his "frog farm." The farm is nothing more than a fenced in portion of marsh land in the rear of his house. He cultivates frogs and has a big stock. Since the popularity of frog catching has reached its zenith and there is contention as to the best frog hunter in the shops, Mr. Ogden has consented to permit the contest to be held at his farm and the dates will be arranged this week. Messrs. George Bondurant and Harry Judd are the principal contestants but the entry list is not confined to these two. Others may enter.

Arrested for Fighting.

Felix Mason, colored, was arrested yesterday for breach of peace. He and two other negroes, Cliff Williams and Louis Roudon, had a fight near Third and Harrison streets, and the former was badly beaten up. The latter two escaped. The police are after the other two.
